

MARCH 28 AUCTION UPDATE

Monday, March 23

We are still planning on holding our March 28 auction. However, with the new restrictions in CT, NY, NJ and other states, it will be an online and mail bid auction only. There will be no box lots in this auction; only the cataloged lots.

Our auction is currently online at both Live Auctioneers and Bid Spirit. So online bidding in real time is available. Both services allow a bidder to leave a left bid or bid along with the auction room. Please go online and register at either service before the auction starts on Saturday morning at 10am EST. If you haven't bid through either one before, the systems are very user friendly.

If you prefer to leave mailbids rather than registering with Live Auctioneers or Bid Spirit, that is fine with us. We will execute your mailbid in the usual manner of a normal auction. Bidding directly with us is a little cheaper as well. We can accept your bid through email, fax or phone.

Whichever way you choose to participate, please know that we are happy to answer any questions or supply extra photos of lots in order to keep everyone safe, healthy and comfortably at home. We will update these messages as it becomes necessary. Please contact us at the gallery with any questions.

We hope you will participate with us.
